DAIRY SARAS PURE DESI AND COW GHEE is made from fresh milk sourced daily and processed at their fully automated state-of-the-art facility. The ghee undergoes strict testing to ensure only the finest product reaches consumers, with a focus on guaranteeing the best health and well-being for customers and their families. The quality of their ghee has been confirmed by numerous families who have tried and tested it, further affirming the company's commitment to providing the best quality product.

Dairy Saras also offers a Mini Dairy Plant constructed using high-grade stainless steel and carbon steel. These dairy plants consist of multiple effect evaporators, which may or may not include a pasteurizer and spray dryer. The evaporator is utilized to concentrate dilute liquid milk with an initial concentration. The entire plant is designed, fabricated, and assembled under rigorous quality control measures, ensuring reliability and efficiency.

For packaging options, Dairy Saras provides their ghee in three types of containers: Pet Jars, Tetra Packs, and Tin Containers. This variety allows customers to choose the packaging that best suits their preferences and needs.

Overall, Dairy Saras appears to prioritize the use of fresh milk and advanced technology in their production process, with a strong focus on quality control and customer satisfaction. The availability of a Mini Dairy Plant and diverse packaging options further enhances their offerings to cater to different market demands.
